J. P. Miller Drowned

Mr. J. P. Miller, well known farmer of the Meadowbrook District was drowned Wednesday night in Gull Lake, when the car in which he was riding broke through the ice about a mile from shore. Mr. Miller accompanied by his son, Adolph, who was driving the car, decided to take a shortcut from the Gull Lake road across the lake to his farm. The ice appeared to be solid enough to obtain the weight of the car, but when about a mile from shore, the ice gave way and the car went under. Adolphe and the other occupant of the car were able to save themselves, but Mr. Miller could not be reacued. The police are at present trying to recover the body, but have not located it yet.

Mr. Miller is an old timer in the Lacombe district, and was highly respected by all who knew him and all are sorry to hear of his tragic death.

THE LATE MRS. SHARPE

The community was deeply grieved to learn of the death on Thursday morning of Mrs. E. M. Sharpe, who passed away after an illness of nearly two weeks duration. Stricken with paralysis on the evening of Saturday, March 30th, she never recovered, although she regained consciousness sufficiently to recognized those nearest her. Miss Alice Susan Carter was born in Cowansville, Que., November 13, 1869. On June 25th, 1904 she was united in marriage to Dr. E. M. Sharpe, who was then a well established physcian in Lacombe, and where they have resided ever since.

Deceased was always an active worker in the former Methodist Church, and Women's Missionary Society and since Union with the United Church. For over twelve years she held the office of President of the local W.C.T.U., and was also for a number of years President of the Central Alberta District W.C.T.U. Of late years she has been Superintendent of one of the Provincial Departments of that organization.

She leaves to mourn her husband, Dr. Sharpe, two daughters, Bessie who is teaching school at Olds, and Lily, at home; a brother S. J. Carter, of Montreal; a sister, Miss Lila A. Carter of Montreal, who was present at the time of her death.

Funeral Services were held from the United Church on Saturday at 2:30 p.m., Rev. R. B. Layton, officiating, and was attended by a host of friends from town and country.

CLIVE NEWS

The Clive I.O.O.F. held a very enjoyable "At Home" last Friday evening, April 12th in the Oddfellow's Hall. About thirty members and their families were present. An impromptu program (apparently) was carried through with enthusiastic success. The following members contributing to the entertainment.

All sang heartily as only Oddfellows can, "O Canada." Mr. Robt. Haskins P.N.G. made an excellent chairman as he always does and had everybody feeling that he was in for a good time of real fun and fellowship.

With Miss Margaret Maurer at the piano, all joined heartily for a time in community singing. This was followed by a brief but earnest address from Mr. Sam Lindemood, who was recently presented with a Veteran's Jewel.

Wm. Bachor, Jr., P.G. gave us two very fine cornet solos that were very much appreciated.

Community singing led by a male chorus received hearty applause.

Able addresses were given by brothers Dilts, Past D.D. Deputy M. ffectively setting forth the meaning of the Triple Links of Oddfellowship and how we can make our local lodge a still greater success, by Robt. Haskins.

Miss M. Maurer then gave a much appreciated piano solo followed by a well rendered solo by David Spink, N.G.

Rev. I. N. Hughson, then gave a reading "The Owl Critic" and a "Spring Serenade" which was delightfully received.

Side-splitting games and contests were indulged in until the hour for adjournment came. Then all circled around a well spread table and sang with a rousing enthusiasm, "Auld Lang Syne", bringing a very happy evening to a close and cementing closer the bonds of Oddfellowship.

Rev. R. T. Harden of the Mirror-Alix charge is exchanging Pulpits on Sunday, April 29th, when anniversary services will be held at Alix at 3 p.m. and Mirror at 7.30 p.m. Rev. Mr. Harden will meet Rev. Hughson at Tees United Church at 11 a.m. and will preach in the evening at Clive United Church 7.30 p.m. The afternoon service at Westling has been withdrawn for this sunday on account of the special services held at Lacombe and Poncles.

Mr. and Mrs. O. Hudkins, of Calgary were called upon to part with their little babe, Norman Harry on Thursday last. Although only about six months old, it suffered from Mastoids, requiring two operations. But it succumbed to the second operation. The body was taken to his parents for the memorial service on Saturday afternoon. Rev. I. N. Hughson officiated. A large number of friends were in attendance. Interment was made in the Clive cemetery.

Deepest sympathy is extended to the bereaved parents, grand parents and relatives.

Edward Chessor Wins Feeding Competition

Edmonton, April 11—In a class that has never been equalled in Alberta for quality and general uniformity, Edward Chessor, Lacombe, captured the Prince of Wales trophy in the children's calf feeding competition, beef section, and was also the winner of the medal presented by the Lieutenant Governor, who was in attendance to make the presentation of the Challenge shield, and also the special medal. The winning steer in this competition is owned by Dr. Percy Talbot, provincial veterinarian, who loaned the calf to young Chessor to fatten for the show.

The lad carried off the shield three years ago.

In commenting on this class, W. L. Carlyle, manager of the Prince of Wales ranch, stated that "it was the nicest class of baby beef that he had seen in Alberta, and the most uniformly good lot of cattle," which showed that the boys and girls who tended them during the winter were sparing no pains with their work. He expressed the hope that the purchasers of the beef in Edmonton would show their appreciation by buying their beef at a good price when it came up for auction.

The second prize in this class went to Sid Brown, of Brandon, Man., with Jean Henderson, of Lacombe, getting third place.

Young Chessor also won first prize in the children's judging competition, with a fellow town-lad taking second, when Tom Biglands of Lacombe, beat out Sid Brown of Brandon.

Bernard Ball of Strathcona was the winner of the children's swine feeding competition, with Billy Betson of Westlock, gaining second brackets, in the class for the best two finished bacon hogs, and Robert Shopland, of Rochester, gaining the award in the class for the best bacon sow. The specials donated by the Alberta Provincial Swine Breeder's association for best pair of purebred Tamworth bacon type hogs, was taken by Alice Swift of Viking, with Mabel Brown from the same town, placing second. Clayton Peterson, of Edberg, took the first prize for the best two Yorkshire bacon type hogs.

Bernard Ball was also the winner of the children's sheep feeding competition, with Mabel Brown, of Viking, placing second.

"The announcement by the Atlantic steamship lines of reduced rates on cabin ships coincides with the opening of an Atlantic travel season in which the cabin type of ship reaches a standard of equipment and accommodation never hitherto reached and during which more cabin ships than ever will sail to and from Europe. The advent of reduced rates also harmonizes with the policy of many world governments to abolish passport visa fees. Ocean tourist travel is quickly getting back to pre-war conditions but greatly enhanced by bigger and better ships," says William Baird, Steamship Passenger Traffic Manager, Canadian Pacific Steamships Limited.

Between four and five thousand bags of Garnet wheat are being shipped from Fort William to be tested by millers in Great Britain. Reports of the reception given these samples will be available before this year's crop is ripe, government officials expect. If these prove favourable the future of this early ripening variety should be assured.

Beef grading in Canada will be established shortly under regulations framed by the Dominion Government, R. B. Homer, chief of the cattle division of the Department of Agriculture, announced at the annual meeting of the Ontario Cattle Breeder's Association in Toronto the other day. The proposed system will be a voluntary one and will be confined to municipalities with facilities for inspection and grading at the time of the slaughter. The aim in view is the stabilizing of the market and the breeding of better cattle.

The Empire's Part in Peace

If there should be another war, one of the direct causes will be the unwillingness of certain politicians of all nationalities to sink party interest in the cause of international goodwill. At the present moment we witness in all lands this process going on of applying the match to the smouldering material of which wars are made. We see the building up of naval supremacy in United States; for what purpose? Merely that a victorious administration may take the credit, if any, for having done so? Merely because the promise to do so went over well with a certain type of elector during the presidential campaign? If the the successful candidates in that campaign have caused the world to doubt the perpetuity of peace, how terrible has been the cost of political victory! In Russia we see the apostles of Bolshevism spoiling for another fight, because, they have been frank enough or indiscreet enough to make it known, the world's workers are too contented—for the Bolshevist mogul's good, that is—and it needs another war, or rather the reaction of another war to make them dissatisfied and revive the waning prosperity of the Communist leaders at Moscow. Even in Canada—worse than that, even at Ottawa—we hear cries of 'retaliation' against the proposed tariff policy of the United States. True, armed warfare can never be expected to arise out of a tariff and warfare between the British Empire and the United States is as remote as between the component parts of the Empire; but supposing we had a difference with some foreign country—a nation not speaking our language, not claiming a common ancestry, nor cherishing similar ideals, would those who now cry "Retaliation!" for an act which has not yet been committed be patient enough to sit through any process of international arbitration. Or would they, with like petulence, magnified perhaps by some greater provocation, cry, "war!"

These and such as they may well heed the counsel of Viscount Grey of Fallodon, chairman of the Liberal council in the United Kingdom, who urged on Monday night that the next government of that country "must not allow the contingency of war to loom above the the position of practical politics." The government, he is reported as saying, could do a great deal to make the relations between Great Britain and the United States stable and friendly by saying that Britain disregarded the United States cruiser programme and heartily favored the renunciation of war. It means that Britain's attitude (and Viscount Grey's exposition of it is no doubt characteristic, irrespective of party politics) is that, no matter what other nations do, this Empire has accepted invitations to subscribe to peaceable treaties of one kind and another and we intend to demonstrate our belief in them in the spirit as well as in the letter. In spite of the fact that England and afterward the British Empire has maintained supremacy on the seas for centuries as a matter of policy, we are not unwilling to surrender it to a friendly nation, if that nation is willing to pay the cost of what, by treaties of her own making, is an expensive and not altogether necessary luxury.

Both in the British navy and army estimates Great Britain has reduced her total defence expenditures by $35,000,000, while the United States, according to the New York Nation: . . . it is illuminating to observe that the supply bills for the army and navy this year will aggregate around $760,000,000, a larger sum than was ever spent by any nation for military purposes during a peace year.

At least the United States must be admired for the versatility with which they make peace machinery and war machinery under the same roof. Viscount Grey, however, has disclosed with a dozen words or so that the Empire not only realizes the seriousness of its obligations under the Kellogg and other treaties but implicitly trusts its co-signatories to do the same.

How far would you go to be sure of a better Oil-?

Knowing that a better oil means smoother performance, longer life, greater economy and bigger trade-in-value for your car, you'd probably go a long way to be sure of a better oil.

That's what Imperial Oil Limited did—went all the way to tropical South America for the crude out of which to refine Marvelube.

There's lots of crude oil available right at Canada's front door. If Canada's largest and most modern refineries had been able to evolve as good an oil as Marvelube from locally available crude they would have been glad to do so. Peruvian crude made a purer, carbon-free, fuller-bodied oil—an oil that meant better lubrication—so Peruvian crude was decided upon.

The decision set a new standard in motor oils. Aircraft operators, the most particular buyers of oil, are enthusiastic about Marvelube because it has given them a longer period of operation between engine overhauls, and a greater margin of safety.

You can enjoy the same benefits in your car, and there is a grade of Marvelube that is refined to meet the exact requirements of your car. Consult the Marvelube chart at good service stations and dealers everywhere.

EYES AND NO-EYES

How long does anyone, not native born, have to be in Canada in order to gather accurate impressions of the country? Apparently five years is not long enough for some while others can perceive the truth in a few weeks. Recently an English journalist published a book about Canada in which he insisted that annexation to the United States would be inevitable sooner or later. This conclusion he has arrived at after five year's residence in this country, but a reviewer, criticizing the book in The Spectator, after having visited this country for a few weeks, takes him to task with the comment:

> The writer does not make sufficient allowance for the intensely national spirit prevalent in Canada which would reject absorption by the United States as fiercely as it would resist coercion from Great Britain.

Those who know Canada best, either by having been born in the country or by long residence, will appreciate that in this case the hurried observer has come to a much more accurate conclusion than the other who deliberately but, it seems, inaccurately watched the situation for five years. The casual visitor—that species of itinerant journalist who has done so much injustice to every country under the sun—on this occasion has placed his finger on the very point of the argument at which the other went astray. It is no injustice to say that Canadian spirit is first national then imperial. The same is just as true of the Englishman or the Scotchman, Irishman, Australian, Indian—anyone in the Empire. But that very nationalism, whatever it might lead to, is strong enough to prevent absorption into the United States. If Canada every felt that she was deteriorating—which may the gods forbid! —into a mere colony of Great Britain, she would at least know better than to leap from the frying pan to the fire.

REFORM NEEDED IN RURAL SCHOOLS

Hon. Perren Baker, has received distinguished reinforcement for his argument that the little red school house has seen it's best days and must give way to something more up-to-date. Hon. Howard Ferguson, Ontario minister of education, is very much of the same opinion.

Speaking at the annual meeting of the Ontario Teacher's association recently Mr. Ferguson declared the time was overdue for a revision of the rural school system in that province. He proposes to do away with the old section schools and trustee boards, replacing them with county administration and graded schools. He believes that the one-room school with thirty or forty pupils is too much for one teacher to handle properly. It means that different classes must be held in six or seven grades. This imposes so much work on the teacher that both instruction and discipline deteriorate in time.

Mr. Ferguson declared that of 5000 rural schools in Ontario conditions were unsatisfactory in at least 65 per cent. Two hundred schools have an average attendance of less than five. Nine hundred have an attendance of ten and less. This is a condition calling for rectification even on the ground of unnecessary cost. According to the Ontario premier the country unit for rural school administration has proven satisfactory in England and in at least half the states in the Union.

RADIO MAY AID MAN IN STUDY OF WILD LIFE

Harry Allen.

Do animals converse? Harry Allen, famous New Brunswick guide says they do, and he speaks from the experience of a lifetime spent in the woods which flank his seventy-eight mile lease of the Cains River. Within certain narrow limits, he insists, the language of the wildcan be counterfeited by man with such skill that it deceives the animals themselves. Thus, the call of the cow moose in the mating season is more often than not a successful lure in bringing the bull to the hunter. The cry of the hunting wolf and the hook of the migrating goose are easily imitated by the initiate and are easy of interpretation. There is, however, nothing particularly new in this. What is new, is Mr. Allen's claim that animals communicate with one another by sounds inaudible to the human ear. That they do converse and communicate one with the other is demonstrated in a thousand ways each day. What our well-known guide suggests is that radio will eventually solve the question and be the means of interpretation of the animal communication.

That the human ear is sensitive to but a very narrow and limited range of vibrations is in fact certain. What Mr. Allen hopes to prove shortly is that all animals are sensitive to, and make use of, "wave lengths" outside the range of mankind.

"It is a common occurrence in the woods to see a cow moose leave her calf, or a doer her fawn," says Mr. Allen by way of example. "I have seen it hundreds of timea. Every time the mother animal has instructed her young, in a language inaudible to human ears, not to stray. That language was quite intelligible to the young, but although I have sometimes been within touching distance, I have never heard the faintest sound, before at most, the blowing out of air from the nostrils which had no apparent significance. The young of the moose or deer will remain exactly as its mother left it, even though she be gone for half an hour at a stretch. More than that —in case of extreme need it will "radio" its mother without apparent sound.

"I have experimented on the problem many times. In each case it has been the same. I have waited until the mother has gone some distance; then have approached and stroked the young animal. Beyond a slight twitching of the skin, it has not moved, but it must have sent out a call, for almost immediately I would hear the crashing return of the mother through the undergrowth. At such moments I would not pursue my investigations further."

Mr. Allan has cited many other "demonstrations" to members of the Tourist Department of the Canadian Pacific Railway who are encouraging him to develop his theory still further as he engages in the role of guide, philosopher and friend to the fisherman and the hunter.

THE PAULIN CHAMBERS CO. LTD.

Mr. Puffer to Mr. Chowen

To the Western Globe:

Dear Sir:—

My humble little letter in your issue of Jan. 17th concerning the Livestock Pool, calling attention to the misrepresentation made in their annual meetings and Pool propaganda generally, seems to have considerably stirred up the Pool leaders in the Blindman Valley and we have been much entertained by the flood of words and comment since then and published in several issues of your paper.

First we had the nice little breeze from Mr. Hansen. A couple of weeks after comes along some strong and gusty blasts from Sunset local No. 51 represented by A. J. Anderson, A. B. Haarstad and Ed. Haarstad. Then in your issue of March 28th the "strong and mighty wind" represented by Mr. Chowen's letter, or did he intend it to be a book?

I would here remark that I have never had any personal animus against any of the Gentlemen mentioned. I have known the first mentioned ever since they came to the country, they were pioneers in their district and I am familiar with their early struggles when the country was very new. I regret that I have not had the opportunity of being so well acquainted with Mr. Chowen, owing to his having come to the country in more recent years. I regard them all as good fellows and good citizens; merely suffering with a delusion with respect to the merit of their livestock Pool.

As their letters are so voluminous I have neither the time or disposition to deal with each letter by itself, but purpose to make some comments on them collectively.

I do not suppose that any of them have the least idea that they have for years been slandering fairly good citizens of the community and who are likely to be quite as honest and well meaning as they are themselves.

While I challenged the truth of their statements made in their annual meetings, and made offers to support my statements and while prices paid on different dates both locally and at Calgary are easily available, nothing is offered in any of their letters to support their assertions, no doubt for the very good reason that they cannot do so. We have simply a repetition that they are all true, true, true, and as I said in my previous letter respecting Mr. Chowen, evidently they have repeated them so often that they quite believe them now, and it would be rather cruel to make any attempt to deprive them of the pleasure of repeating them as often as they like. So there it lies, and lies as lies.

A "deplorable picture" is painted of price conditions in the Blindman Valley in 1923, all of course due to the wicked people the drovers, and also bright pictures of the wonderful change that has been brought about by their organization.

No mention is made of prices in previous years when they were able to get 18 to 23 cts. per lb. through these same perfidious drovers and without any Pool organizations to inflate the prices.

I, myself, paid as high as 23 1-2c. per lb. for hogs in the Autumn of 1921.

I am sure that no dealer claims credit for the high prices those years any more than the Pool should be blamed for the very low prices in 1924 the next year after the pool was organized and, which, by the way, was the lowest price year for over 25 years. Supply and demand coupled with the purchasing ability of the public was more likely responsible for it.

Mr. Chowen, ironically asks me what price the drover paid in 1923 when hogs were selling in Calgary at 13.50 per hundred? In my previous letter I gave the highest price at 13.50 in Sept. of that year and the lowest as 7c. on No. 29th and that I had paid $7.15 here the same week. It should have read $11.50 as the highest price, Sept. 20.

The highest price the year after the Pool started was 9.60 on Aug. 21st and the lowest $6.50 on Feb. 14th. I must thank Mr. Chowen for calling my attention to this error. Whether I can blame it on the type I do not know, but it might have been my fault in copying the record. I paid 11c. here that week and the Bentley prices were about the same.

I note that he offers to supply me with the exact price "privately", but why "privately"?

From his own experience he should know that secrets are sometimes very embarrassing and this experience must have been rather painful. It all came through his having sold a bunch of his own stock to one of those despicable "drovers."

This incident occurred within the last couple of years, and as he was president of the stock Pools at that time, the temptation must have been very great. The drover, however belonged to a nationality, famous for their shrewdness as traders and it seems that Mr. Chowen expected the deal to be kept as a secret, just a matter between friends you know. However, the perfidious "men of Belial" let the secret slip, much to the discomfiture of Mr. Chowen, and which was aggravated when he found that he had not beat the poor Israelite in the deal after all. His cursory remarks to his customer for betraying him must have been very entertaining.

It would be interesting to know if he has yet paid the $250.00 penalty for violation of a Pool contract, but perhaps as President of the Organization he was privileged and did not have to sign a contract. Now that wholesale prosecutions are pending for violations of the Pool contracts he may be lucky if he didn't. With regard to the prosecutions, though, Judges and Courts have an awkward habit of demanding facts, a commodity of which the Pool leaders have so shamefully exposed their ignorance and nakedness and by which they induced many to sign up. Such people, if prosecuted need not greatly fear the result.

Our Pool friends have a great deal to say about the spread between the prices paid here and at Calgary, also that some dealers who were at a Lockhart meeting told them that 9c. hogs could not be delivered and sold through the Calgary market on a spread of 77c. per hundred, while their Pool had been able to ship to the same point on a spread of 52c.

At the risk of further exciting the wrath of the Pool leaders, I will give some facts that should appeal to anyone of ordinary common sense and fairness.

The average car of hogs, say 85 head and weighing 17,000 lbs., costing 9c. per lb. at shipping point would figure at $1530.00

A reasonable shrinkage would be 15 lbs. per head or 1275 lbs., which if sold at $9.75 would amount to $1583.17. The freight would be about $40.00. Selling commission $12.00. Weighing and other yardage charges $6.00. Total charges $58.00. Selling price $1533.17. Less 1-2 of 1 p.c. insurance $7.66. Net received $1525.51. LOSS $62.49.

If the hogs are sold to someone who will accept the freight from shipping point, the freight item could be deducted. If they were fed enroute, part of the shrinkage can be saved, but all the hogs are sold at Calgary on off-car basis without feed or water. On the figures given above the money loss on shrinkage of 1275 lbs. at 9c. per lb, would be $114.75, but if the price was 20c. per lb. the loss from that alone would be $255.00. Anyone who knows the business will concede that the figures given are fair and not exaggerated in any way.

From the above it can easily be seen why everyone in this part of the country finds it safer to sell at shipping point. The packers require a steady supply that they can rely on to keep their men employed and plants operating, and will often pay at local points pretty close to market prices. The Pool has been selling under this system right along, and their claims to shipping to the Calgary Markets and all they have to say about spreads is simply Pool Propaganda and of course serves them to clam their competition, too.

All that is said or written on the subject by Pool leaders would lead their members to think that they ship to the open market at Calgary or Edmonton to sell there. Indeed, in one of the annual statements a year or two ago, they also made the claim of discovering markets at Montreal and Vancouver, also places in the States where they had also been shipping. Gentle reader, this is all the purest humbug, and quite in line with their general propaganda. Do not believe for a moment, Mr. Pool Member that your hogs are going on the open market, for you can attend the market at Calgary or Edmonton the year around and never find a Blindman Valley hog for sale there or on any other market either.

In reply to this, they will say that they invite bids from every one to buy their hogs at shipping point. This results in bids from some of the larger Packing companies who can put their heads together and bid what they like. The smaller men, who only want a car or two at a time cannot get a look in, because they may not be able to handle the whole string on shipping day, whereas, if they were on the open market or even competed for in smaller lots by private dealers, there would be some real competition. But at present there is none.

It is true that Pool hogs are sold on the Calgary market, but they are from points closer to Calgary and not from this locality.

The crime record of the Pool's representatives on the Calgary market is a matter of recent history. They were heavily fined on several counts and were compelled to sign a most abject apology as well. I have no doubt that if any other business firm in the yards had been guilty of doing what it was fully proved those gentry did, they would have had a prison sentence to serve as well as paying the fine. An account of the case was published in the Calgary Herald at the time.

Again it is humbug about their shipping to Montreal, Vancouver or the States. I know of their selling large numbers of hogs to private dealers at Weinakwin when the Montreal and Toronto Markets were good, but the dealers took them over and paid for them at local points, and the Pool has never taken a chance of shipping to these places themselves. So why continue to humbug the public.

Until the organization of the Pool, a good many private dealers did compete for the hogs in the Blindman Valley, and it made things lively there at times. I have often heard people express surprise at our being able to pay so close to Calgary Market quotations. Sometimes as much, sometimes more, and this was the way it happened. We would have orders for a few loads, at a good price and by the time we had got them bought and delivered to us, there might be a market decline, so that we would be paying for them higher than the market quotations. Now, the Producers are so tied up that they dare not take advantage of any such conditions, and have very little way of knowing whether they are getting right prices or not, except that they can see the private dealers consistently paying higher prices than the Pool year after year and the reason is clear—that they can handle them more cheaply than the Pool does. Oh, but they say what would we be getting if it wasn't for the Pool? My friends, the Pool management has no more to do with that than the ring-tailed monkeys of Timbuctoo—or any more than they did when we for years were paying 18 to 23 cents per lb. Competition among the dealers forces us to better methods than the Pools have ever practiced yet.

I firmly believe that the Pools have cost the producers thousands of dollars through their incompetent ways of handling stock. Hundreds of unfinished animals, both cattle and hogs are marketed by them that a dealer would never think of sending to market at all. Perhaps not 10 p.c. of the cattle in the Blindman Valley are finished there ready for market. Every dealer I know of feeds all he can himself, right in his district, and also supplies many others with feeding animals too.

If my Blindman Valley friends ever do read anything except the U.F.A. or Russian Journal, I would call their attention to the NorWest Farmer of March 20, where a different story is told about some of the despised Lacombe "Drovers."

It tells of where one outfit alone paid $30,000 for feed the past year, and that they are also constant Exhibitors at the Fairs and Shows. They sold one steer last fall at a dollar a pound, and perhaps this was the ground on which our friends are so emphatic in their statements that the Drover's profits are from ten to thirty dollars per head on the cattle they ship. If they had more men of that kind in the Blindman Valley to stimulate business and prices by buying up the unfinished stock and feeding them there, a lot of frozen and cheap grain would find a market right at home. In buying up cattle or hogs the dealer takes what is offered at a price he can afford afterwards, sorting them up and handling them to the best advantage possible and feeding and finishing all he can.

According to Mr. Chowen, though, we drovers, as he calls us, are sneaks because we demand to weigh on the Pool scales and pay for it. The railway companies permit one set of scales at each of their yards, but stipulate that the owner do custom weighing at a reasonable price. We know that the Pool leaders would shut us out, if they could, but they do have to weigh for us when we are prepared to pay the price. I have for years had scales on my own property at different places and they have always been open for public use. Many Pool members have used them, and I have never yet made any charge to a competetor or anyone else. The same practice is followed by every stockman that I know of. There are two other stock scales in Lacombe, one of them at the C.P.R. yards, the other on private property and although Pool members often use them, no charge is made. Mr. Chowen's bitter plaint, while it affords him the opportunity to gibe at "the rules of our country" as this little matter about the scales seems to have done, it also serves to show the calibre of the people concerned and the way others view such things. It also brings to my mind the nice little story of the Coo-Coo bird and to which he compares the drovers. I will accept the simile and the readers may apply it to any of the correspondents that it best fit.

While the Coo-Coo bird may have her faults and "be no better than she ought to be", she is a dainty Lady, and the egg she lays in another bird's nest is a nice, clean egg and the owner of the nest can either tumble it out or hatch it—just as she pleases. There is too, the unclean class of birds, Buzzards and carrion eaters, who are so fitly represented by the unclean birds of the human species. In deference to the feelings of Mr. Chowen and his friends, I will not proceed to draw the comparison, which their methods and letters so strongly invite, yet I feel that I am showing more generosity than they deserve in refraining from doing so. Reference is made to the confidence they have in my personal integrity for which, thanks. They also refer to having had confidence in me in the past, and which I take it, refers to my services in a public capacity and at no small cost to myself, but it surprises me nevertheless, for it is the first indication that they ever thought of the matter at all.

I would not have it thought that I am altogether opposed to co-operative societies, for in some cases they are calculated to do good, although most of them are not, and they are very costly to those who try to handle them, as a rule.

Our people dearly love to have their Liberty, and conduct their own affairs, individually. Where people are all one race and more accustomed to follow some bell wether "leader" such societies are more likely to succeed. To me, there are many indications of unrest in Blindman Valley Pools, and I believe many joined them on the principle of "trying anything once"; and who have too much independence of spirit "to go on forever". There will be a small group, however, who have the proper temperament for it and I would like them to be encouraged by the one example of a society in Canada who apply the principle in all their affairs, and who also no doubt intend to "go on forever."

The society I refer to is the Doukobor Brotherhood. This society have been up against it for a Leader since Peter Veregan died and I suggest Brother Chowen apply for the job. He no doubt could organize a small society of Douks at Sunset Hill, and we will all be on the lookout for them the first time they line up for parade in the altogether, but I trust that this letter will not excite them into doing anything like that.

As I must close this article, I will overlook the personal epithets applied to me by Mr. Chowen—malicious, unscrupulous, wreck by the wayside, etc., etc., and just let him "go on forever."

Lacombe Wins Highest Honors

Last week we recorded the winnings of Lacombe boys and girls, and the cattle breeders and feeders of the Lacombe district at the Calgary Spring Show. During the past week their successes at the Edmonton Spring Show were even more outstanding.

This year at both Calgary and Edmonton, our Lacombe boys and girls had to meet very strong competition in classes made up of competitors from Manitoba, Saskatchewan, Alberta and British Columbia, and all classes were very large.

The outstanding winner this year was Edward Chessor. At Calgary, his calf was placed second in the open boys and girls class and first in the class for Shorthorns and won a total of $100.00 in prizes. At Edmonton, under different judges, Ed's calf was placed first in three classes and secured a total of $200.00 in cash prizes. In addition to his winnings with his calf, he was winner of the $30.00 first prize in the judging competition for horses, cattle, sheep and swine. In this judging competition, Tommy Biglands, of Lacombe won second prize $25.00 and Henry Magilton fourth prize, $15.00.

In the boys and girls Calf Class, other Lacombe winners were. John Henderson, third prize; Margaret Roper 8th, Tommy Biglands 9th; Frances Roper 10th; Harry Southward 11th; Barbara Chessor 13th and Isabelle Magilton 16th. Even 16th place was decidedly an honor in the very strong lineup of over 60 calves.

One of the best steers shown this year was a pure-bred Shorthorn from the herd of Joe Biglands and son. This steer was Reserve Grand Champion at Calgary and at Edmonton was placed over his competitor and made Grand Champion of the show and first in three classes.

In the classes for carlots and groups of five steers as well as in single steer classes McKenzie Bros., of Lacombe were the leading winners with one first prize, five seconds, 4 thirds and 3 fourth prizes.

While the cattle breeders and feeders were "putting Lacombe on the Map" in large capitals, Helen Boutin and Molly Biglands were bringing honors to their home district at the Royal Alexandra Hospital, Edmonton. Both were graduated as nurses and Miss Biglands also received a silver medal and two first prizes of $25.00 each in gold.

"Thirty Days Hath September"

Arriving at Halifax recently, aboard the Anchor-Donaldson liner Athenia from Great Britain, bound for Ottawa and Washington, Moses B. Cotsworth, of Vancouver, calendar expert for the League of Nations, declared that in a year or so Canada and the whole civilized world will adopt the new simplified calendar of 13 months to each year, and 28 days to every month. The old calendar misrepresents business production because some months have more Tuesdays or an additional Sunday, he said. Forty years of study on this pet subject of his have convinced him that our school-day rhyme might as well be laid aside now.

Serious Fire Near Bentley

A disastrous fire occurred at the Lorne Craig farm in the Chapel District on Saturday last. The fire is reported to have started in the kitchen from the upsetting of a pitcher of gasoline, which was being used to clean some clothing. The gas immediately caught fire and Mrs. Craig and Mrs. Fox, her housekeeper were burned about the limbs. The house and contents were a total loss, not a thing being saved. There was a small insurance on the house. The house was of frame construction and was erected about two years ago and was modern, and well furnished. Much sympathy is felt for the family just at this time as Mr. Craig's mother is seriously ill at her home nearby with little hope of her recovery. The neighbors have rallied to their aid, and are erecting a temporary shelter and a couple of miscellaneous showers are planned by the Ladies of the District.

The Lakeside Artists Please

The long looked for play entitled "The Corner Store" was staged on Friday night last at Lakeside School to a packed house. In fact quite a few could not get inside the building, while those who were fortunate enough to find a seat were amply repaid for getting there early. The play was full of original wit and clean humor from start to finish which caused the audience to roar with laughter, while in th more dramatic moments one could have heard the proverbial pin drop.

The players were well chosen to take their respective parts, and the way they acted spoke only too plainly of the time, trouble and pains they had taken to attend to detail and perfect their pieces.

Mr. Steve Abbott, as chairman, in a very able manner outlined briefly the play.

The Cast consisted of: Mr. John Henderson, Mrs. John Henderson, Mr. Henry Trame, Mr. Fred Langrock, Mr. Clarence Bauer, Harry Wright, Mrs. Trame, Mr. Chas. Abbott, Miss B. Abbott.

Mr. Clarence Bauer as the "Irish Store Assistant" kept the audience in convulsing laughter with his Irish wit and characteristic brogue. Mr. Harry Wright made a fine coon with the usual weakness for chicken. Mrs. Henry Trame portrayed the part of "Dora Barton" the wealthy niece in a very capable manner. Mr. Fred Langrock as the unscrupulous nephew was right there with the villian stuff. Mr. Henry Trame as "Bud Wheeler," the misjudged son made a splendid hero. Mr. Chas Abbott as representative of law and order, was good and very officious in the execution of his duties. Mrs. Henderson, as wife of Eli Wheeler acted her pathetic part splendidly. Miss B. Abbott as Jerusha Jane Alvira Anne Boggs, was just brimming over with action, and acted her difficult part to perfection, keeping the audience wondering what she would do next. Mr. John Henderson, as Eli Wheeler, the store keeper was outstanding, and his ability to impersonate the country store keeper and affectionate father could not have been more than equalled by a professional actor. One thinks that John missed his vocation. Between the acts amusing skits were put on, so there was not a dull moment from start to finish.

PHOTOGRAPHY

The average amateur photographer thinks the pictures he makes of children—whether his own or the neighbors' are the cutest in the province. Now, two men of prominence in the photographic world have given their opinion on the subject, and settled the question for at least a month.

The two men are James R. Quirk, publisher of Photoplay Magazine; and Kenneth Wilson Williams, editor of Kodakery, who are judges in the largest amateur photography prize contest ever held.

Mrs. Ferguson's prize is $100. It is one of the fifty-seven equal awards offered for the best child pictures sent during March from each province of Canada and each state in the United States as part of the Kodak Company's $30,000 amateur photograph contest. Similar prizes are offered for child pictures taken in April.
